

Contract Position, Intermediate Software Developer

With over $5.3 billion of investor commitments across eight funds, ARC Financial Corp. is Canada's largest energy focused private equity manager. We are focused on Canada and invest in companies that explore, acquire and develop crude oil and natural gas reserves and production, and in Oilfield Service companies that provide supporting services and equipment.

ARC believes that the future of oil and gas is digital, and involves a lower environmental footprint. We are committed to encouraging and facilitating the implementation of leading edge technologies among the portfolio companies that we invest in.

Job Description

ARC is looking to hire a Software Developer for a one year contract position. The objective of the position is to implement automation projects within ARC Financial and its portfolio companies to demonstrate the power of digital technologies for streamlining work processes and increasing efficiency and productivity.

The first project will focus on automating the process of updating the latest price and production information used in an industry standard economic evaluation tool. After the first project, the scope will be expanded to demonstrate other opportunities for automation and digitally enabled productivity improvements within the ARC portfolio oil and gas companies. The successful candidate will be proactive in helping to identify areas of potential automation, with help from the ARC.

Skills and Education

- 3+ years of experience in creating and maintaining high performance software and automation projects
- Valid post-secondary degree in software/computer engineering, computer science, or equivalent experience
- Experience in multiple programming languages, preferably C# and Python
- Natural curiosity, project management skills and creativity
- Good communication skills in English
- Experience in database management would be an asset
- Familiarity with robotic process automation software, such as Blue Prism, would be an asset
- Prior experience in the oil and gas industry would be an asset, but is not necessary

Other Details

- This position is for a 12-month contract from the date of commencement, based out of Calgary
- Salary and bonus package will reflect the applicant's experience and skillset

Applicants should have an interest in being on the leading edge of demonstrating the ability to create new digitally enabled workflows and efficiencies in oil and gas companies. Interested candidates should e-mail a cover letter, resume and all university transcripts to:
